

Case Study: Youth Recruitment Kiosks

Challenge

NZKiosk was asked to provide a touchscreen kiosk solution for the Action Works website. Action Works is a youth organisation designed to guide youth into training, education or employment. They help with youth between the ages of 13-19. The purpose of the web site was to create an environment where their clients can register and search for jobs in a simple to use environment

Solution

Initially two kiosk units were deployed utilising the existing web site through a web-enabled browser. Site kiosk was deployed as this browser interface with the ability to turn off a number of functions found within the web site, but still having the ability for the users to enter their information using the on-screen touch keyboard. The kiosks are remotely managed to ensure that the kiosks are working at all times and that any potential problems are resolved remotely, where possible.

Result

Following the successful release of the two kiosks, a third kiosk has recently been purchased with a current investigation into the potential rollout of 20 or more kiosks located throughout Canterbury's schools. The statistics provided by the management software has shown an average of 2914 navigations and 586 sessions have taken place since the machines were installed 55 days ago.
